

LUNAR PATHS collaborate with VAUI on new single, WTB:

Late in 2025, Lunar Paths (Diane Dubois and Kevin Hunter) were approached by international electronic producer and multi-instrumentalist VAUI (Marvin Acevedo), who proposed that they create a song together. This month, Lunar Paths feat. VAUI release WTB, the fruit of this, their first collaboration. WTB drops on June 27th, on all the usual platforms, with a video to follow in the summer.

In early 2026, VAUI sent the duo some recordings of synthesisers and electronic drums, with the very generous instruction to do with them as they pleased. Immediately, Diane began looping, layering and generally constructing the foundations for the song. Kevin brought lush organic textures to the electronica in the form of acoustic drums. VAUI sent more exquisite keyboards. However, it was a sample of a spy radio broadcast utilising the NATO phonetic alphabet that unlocked the song, especially the words 'whiskey', 'tango' and 'bravo' (WTB). WTB stands for 'want to buy', which gave Diane an idea for the lyrics... and so the finished song explores the modern scourge of 'fast fashion'.

"Waiting for my cheap thrill. Now it's in the landfill."

Veterans of the original northern UK goth scene, ex Skeletal Family and Cold Dance duo Diane Dubois and Kevin Hunter started working together again in late 2021, after a chance encounter on social media reunited them. Despite the thousands of miles that now separate their homes and studios—they have yet to meet again face to face, and all their work to date has been done online—they soon discovered that they had retained an uncannily intuitive feel for each other's creative processes. Each new track astounds and surprises, because each one is different from its predecessors – and yet, they do undeniably have a sound that is recognisably 'Lunar Paths'.

VAUI is the pseudonym of the Colombian based multi-instrumentalist and international electronic music producer, Marvin Acevedo. He has worked with a wide range of innovative and exciting recording artists, remixing and collaborating in a career spanning several continents and as many languages. Examples of his work can be found across all the major online platforms.

lunarpaths.com

lunarpaths.bandcamp.com

youtube.com/@lunarpaths1416/videos

facebook.com/LunarPathsMusic

instagram.com/lunar.paths

tiktok.com/@lunar.paths

Contact:

info@lunarpaths.com

lunarpaths@infosparkplug.com

